The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer, My God, my rock, in whom I take refuge; My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold. I call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised, And I am saved from my enemies. - Psalm 18:2-3 NASB

A fortress made of rock is a powerful refuge to protect us from any attack. A shield protects us when we are out in the world away from the fortress, and a horn is a symbol of strength for defeating the enemy. And when we are out in this present darkness we can call upon God — especially through our attitude of praise, and we will be saved. There may be battle scars but God will deliver us from our enemies both spiritual and physical.

God is our fortress if we dwell in His Word and are led by His Spirit. Disobedience is walking away from that protection. But, praise God He can rescue us when we call on His name! Brandon Mayo, one of the Native men

Prayer Requests:

- Protection and Health for Workers
- Long-Term Staff for YWAM
- Summer Outreach Teams

Native singers and musicians come to KJNP to broadcast live music over the radio to all the villages in Alaska, and even into Canada. This program is called Village Voice and takes place on Saturday evening each week. Mountain Movers is continuing to meet at Faith Christian Mission campus in North Pole, Alaska until the Westmark Hotel in Fairbanks allows them return to the Fairbanks location.

We have been doing a lot of labor and updating to the YWAM base as well. We are expecting a work team to come out of Florida, to help us in August with some of these projects and outreach. We had to replace the main double ovens and the refrigerator in the main YWAM kitchen. Since we have a lot of meals there, they are essential to our ministry. We need to replace many of the windows in this three-story building, and make repairs on the cabins as well for extra capacity for future teams to stay there. Our supporters have been so faithful and we thank you for that. Even in the midst of this coronavirus and political crisis, God is moving, and where sin abounds, grace did much more abound. Any donations to help with these projects our greatly appreciated. The Lord bless and keep you all.
